This week-by-week teaching plan is based on the whole class starting school at the beginning of the year. New Zealand students start school on or close to their birthdays, so the timing of the planner will need to be adjusted depending on students' time at school. Two books are listed per week which is perfect for those who are progressing easily. It is important to note that for those students slower to progress one book scaffolded across the week would be more appropriate as they will need more explicit teaching from sound to word to sentence to text. All books are available in the Sunshine Online Decodable Library (SODL).
